EDITORIAL NOTES

The Abbe Molgno has formed a company in Paris, and has raised $150,000, for the purpose of dragging the Red Sea and the Bitter Lakes, in order to recover the chariots, treasure, arms and other remains of Pharaoh's host.

The cry of the New York Sun, "Turn the rascals out," recalls to the Advertiser the experience of the Democratic Congressional Investigation Committee a few years ago. Every time the Committee dropped its hook for a rascal it hauled up a Democrat.

Alvin, Ditom & Co. of Boston send us half a dozen pieces of very nice music. "Watching and Waiting" has attained quite a popularity. "A Prayer to a Mind Worn and Weary," "Thine Alone," "Asperges We," a quartette; "Cleansed Thou My Soul," and several pieces of instrumental music are all good.

The New York Sun, while indorsing Judge Sawyer's decision that Mongolians are not white persons within the meaning of the statute regulating naturalization, thinks some Chinamen may have been lawfully naturalized between the time of the enactment of the revised statutes and the passage of the act to correct errors therein, February 18, 1875.

Vernon, one of the star-route jurors, has come into possession of a large amount of money, which he claims was left him by a brother, who recently died in Texas. The Daily Exchange says: He doubtless regards Dorsey as a brother, and merely added on the little fiction about his death. If the Government were to investigate the case, it would doubtless have but little difficulty in proving Mr. Vernon's eligibility for a position in the penitentiary.

There are only two Judges who are members of the United States Supreme Court who are not possessed of independent fortunes, says the Oxden Pilot. These are Justices Miller and Harlan. The aggregate wealth represented on the Supreme Bench is said to be fully $15,000,000, of which about $13,000,000 is owned by Judge Blatchford. Justice Field has $750,000; Justice Bradley, $500,000; Stanley Matthews, $300,000; Chief Justice Waite, $250,000; Justice Gray, $150,000; and Justice Woods, $100,000. Judge Blatchford has no child to inherit his property, and Justice Gray is a bachelor. A life salary of $10,000 is sufficient to secure any of those gentlemen against poverty; but when that is supplemented by such handsome fortunes as all but two of them possess, there is not much danger of an increase of salary being demanded.

An International Railroad—A Desperate Mob.

TUCSON, July 11.

An official telegram has been received from the City of Mexico by Governor Sonora that the General Government has approved the application for the Tucson and Port Lobos Railroad, to start from Port Lobos, signed by Agustin R. Guazales. The company is a Tucson organization, and the construction will commence in a few days. From Port Lobos, on the Gulf of California, the Mexican Government gives $9,000 for each mile constructed in Sonora.

Considerable excitement in Deming Tuesday night was caused by an organized effort being made to hang Doc Kane, who killed the railroad engineer, Dick Tabler, some months ago. Getting wind of it, he escaped, and the mob hang up his barkeeper several times, to make him divulge the hiding place of Kane, but without avail. They then gave the barkeeper and a gambler called "Rory" 10 hours to leave. The house of Deputy Sheriff Tucker was guarded by a mob, in hopes of finding Kane. W. B. Tabler, formerly a printer on the Star, and a brother of the murdered engineer, is leading the mob, armed with a double-barrelled shotgun and two revolvers.

Active relief for the sufferers by the flood at London is arriving. The estimated loss of property is $500,000.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

[PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.]

A New Order.

CHICAGO, June 11.

The Supreme Temple of Patriarchs Circle, an adjunct of the order of Odd Fellows, a uniformed semi-military organization, met in annual session in this city to-day. It is estimated that 1,000 uniformed Knights have already arrived and will take part in the parade to-morrow afternoon. This morning the visitors were escorted to their headquarters by the Occidental Temple of this city, where they presented their credentials and were afterward escorted to their respective hotels. At 11 o'clock the Occidental Temple, one hundred strong, served as an escort to the Right Eminent Representatives of the Patriarchs Circle and escorted them to the Supreme Temple in Methodist Church Block; and on their arrival there the Patriarchal Circle went into executive session and heard the reports of the Supreme Oracle, Supreme Secretary, and Supreme Treasurer. This afternoon a reception in honor of the visiting Patriarchs and their ladies was held at the headquarters of the Occidental Temple. A street parade of the Commanderies will occur to-morrow, and a prize drill the following day.

He Denies.

DENVER, July 12.

Congressman Belford, in an interview last night, indignantly and emphatically denies that he was retained by ex-Senator Tabor to represent his interests in the selection of the Government building site in Denver, and says he knows of his own knowledge, that architect Hill was never offered, and never received a cent to locate the building on Tabor's property. He charges that all these stories are a part of a scheme to have the question of location re-opened, in the hope of defeating the Tabor location.

The Orangemen Celebrate.

CHICAGO, July 12.

Members of the Society of Orangemen of this city, to the number of 100, paraded this morning in honor of the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne. They afterwards took a train out of the city for the purpose of holding a picnic. No disturbance of any nature was created along the line of march, although the column at times was subject to wild jeering.

A Chicago Accident.

CHICAGO, July 12.

A run-away horse attached to a light buggy, in which were seated four young people, approached the draw of the Harrison-street bridge last night at a furious gallop, and plunged into the river, the bridge having been swung to allow a passage of a vessel. A young man and a young woman were precipitated into the river with the vehicle, and the former was drowned.

Overtaken His Man.

CARM, Ills., July 12.

At Burnt Prairie, 12 miles from here, a fatal affray occurred between Douglas Gowdy and his sister's husband, Buck Williams, the result of an old family feud. Gowdy went to Williams' residence armed with a knife and cut Williams several times. The latter ran, but was followed by Gowdy, when he then drew a knife and stabbed Gowdy to the heart. Gowdy dropped dead.

Reports from the Tornado.

LEAVENWORTH, July 12.

Reports from the town of Soldier, the scene of the tornado Tuesday, estimates the loss of property at from $35,000 to $40,000. Fifteen buildings, including the principal business houses of the town, were demolished. The bodies of Mrs. O'Hannel, Mrs. Waters, Mrs. Owen and an infant, were taken from the ruins.

A Suicide.

TROY, N. Y., July 12.

Ex-trustee Rufus S. Mann of Lansingburg, one of the most prominent citizens, cut his throat from ear to ear this morning, and was found dead. He was sun struck three weeks ago, and had since complained of pains in the head.

Arizona Apaches.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.

J. W. Davis of Florence, Arizona, in an interview with an Examiner reporter, states that the people of Arizona are despairing over the present status of the Indian question, and have little confidence in a peaceful issue. With regard to the renegade Apaches on the San Carlos reservation, he said the Arizonians have but one opinion—that the Apaches should be removed from the Territory.

An Irish M. P. Talks.

DUBLIN, July 12.

Sexton, M. P. for the county of Sligo, in a speech, said England had learned by her short encounter with American politicians, on the pauper emigration question, that if there was to be a clearance of Ireland it would not be the Irish people who would have to go.

Thirty-five deaths occurred at Damietta during the 24 hours ending at 8 o'clock this morning.

A Terrible Flood, and Great Loss of Life in Canada.

LONDON, Ont., July 12.

The rain of night before last lasted over eight hours, almost continuously, with tremendous violence, and about 3 A. M. the river rose rapidly, inundating West London. Nearly everyone in the village, which numbers about 2,000, had to take refuge on the house-tops. Many were drowned, as the houses were washed over as if built of pasteboard, and were carried off down the river. The water was never before known to reach such a height. A full list of the fatalities cannot be yet given. Only one bridge in the vicinity of London is fit for travel; three or four are totally carried away and others damaged. Both of the railway bridges are badly sprung, and traffic is suspended on the Great Western Railroad. Men are working hard to save the remaining bridges in the neighborhood. The flow in the streets was so heavy as to undermine them in some places, and houses were carried down the river with people screaming on the roofs and inside. One house lodged against some trees a mile below the city; a boat followed, but, attracted by screams, they were drawn away by persons on other rooftops, whom they rescued first, and when they again went to the house, there was no sound. The family is supposed to be drowned. The list of the drowned will reach perhaps 30. It is impossible to get a detailed account. The Advertiser gives the following description of the view from the roof of the Court House: From 9:30 to 10 o'clock A. M. the view is that of a lake a mile across in each direction, in which stands dozens of trees and houses. The branches of the trees hang in yellow water, and the roofs of the houses and upper parts of their walls, show above the surface of the lake, which is strewn with boards, timbers, and debris of all kinds. The whole of Kensington makes a part of the lake. No sign of life is visible in the doomed village, except men in row boats, passing from house to house. Houses which are left standing, all half submerged in water. One stands in the middle of the street, where it was floated and stranded early in the morning. The water in the south branch, which is nearly up to the roadway of the Westminster bridge, rushes impetuously into the lake, carrying down large quantities of brushwood, boards and timbers. The yellow lake is overhung by a sleepy mist, above which the clouds hang heavy and dark, threatening to renew their work of devastation. As one watches the gloomy spectacle, ghastly objects float under Westminster bridge, and the crows upon it start and scream to the boatmen on the lake. One skiff goes to where the river rushes into the lake, but it can't stem the current; a boat waits and meets the floating object, and one of the men in the boat seizes, and far down stream, hauls ashore the corpse. Six bodies were taken out of the river to-night; these being Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Constance, Mrs. Hutchinson and three of the Tracy family. The list will yet be swelled.

The French at Madagascar.

LONDON, July 12.

The report of the doings of the French in Madagascar, alluded to by Gladstone in the House of Commons yesterday, came from the British Consul at Zanzibar. It was brought to that place by a man-of-war. The French Government has telegraphed to Madagascar for details of the proceedings complained of. At a session of the House of Lords to-day, Lord Salisbury questioned Lord Granville, the Foreign Secretary, as to whether the British forces in Madagascar would be increased. Granville said he would not make public any statement which might be misconstrued.

The Vatican.

ROME, July 12.

The Russian government proposes to appoint ambassadors to the Vatican. The Pope has summoned the French bishops to come to Rome, for the purpose of consulting with him in regard to the condition of the church in France.

Cholera Spreading.

ALEXANDRIA, July 12.

The cholera has appeared at Rifa and Ubbina, 40 and 50 miles respectively from Cairo. The revised lists show the number of deaths from the disease at Mauswieh, yesterday, to have been 80, instead of 50 as before reported.

An English Colony.

VICTORIA, July 11.

An English syndicate has leased 15,000 acres of agricultural land in Kootenay district, for farming purposes, and will bring out an English colony to settle it.

Heir to the Throne.

PARIS, July 12.

Gonters says the bill of Count Chambord commands all Royalists to recognize Count of Paris as heir to the throne of France.
